Tri-Valley TV Campers debut new episode of "Tri-Valley Youth View"
on Channel 28 and 30

PLEASANTON, CA – (09.07.11) - Congressman Jerry McNerney and Livermore Mayor Marshall Kamena were just two of the guests on a new episode of "Tri-Valley Youth View" airing on Channel 28 and 30. (Please see schedule at end of release). For the third summer, Tri-Valley Community TV (TVCTV) offered two sessions of a unique TV Summer Camp available to middle school and high school students in the Tri-Valley. Thirteen campers from Danville, Dublin, Livermore, Pleasanton, and San Ramon took over the studios of TVCTV while they participated in the five day camp. The result is a special one hour show titled "Tri-Valley Youth View."

"TVCTV was so pleased to be able to offer the camps," said Melissa Tench-Stevens, TVCTV Executive Director. "I truly believe the experience fuels a creative flame that is burning in these talented students. The camp provided students a productive and fun way to spend 20 hours over the summer."

Under the direction of Camp Director, Mitch Eason, the hands-on TV Camp provided an introduction to the technical and talent aspects of studio and field production, writing, producing and digital video editing.

"Tri-Valley Youth View," was written and produced by the middle and high school students. They researched and wrote questions, acted as crew for all the production positions and were talent for the program," Tench-Stevens commented.

Guests on the current episode also include Cat Taylor, a naturalist at the East Bay Regional Park District; Joan Sepalla, publisher of The Independent Newspaper; and Jeff Cohen, inventor of Voyage Air, a folding guitar seen on "Shark Tank." Also appearing on the show are Joelle Cook and Linda McKeever, from Open Heart Kitchen and Holly Stower from Children of the American Revolution.

"Tri-Valley Youth View" may be seen starting this Friday at 2p and 8p on TV 30 and Monday at 5p on TV 28 via Comcast, on AT&T U-Verse TV via Channel 99 or live streaming at www.trivalleytv.org. For more show times check the schedule on the website.
