

TV30 debuts new episode of Tri-Valley Youth View

PLEASANTON, CA – (10.25.14) – A new edition of Tri-Valley Youth View, a special TV program produced by middle and high school students who attended TV30's Summer Camp, is currently airing on TV30 and TV28. For the sixth summer Tri-Valley Community TV offered this unique TV Camp. Ten campers from Danville, Dublin, Livermore, Pleasanton, and San Ramon participated in the five day camp. This episode of Tri-Valley Youth View represents the work of students who attended the camp.

"This camp gives students the opportunity to talk with high level officials and other professionals in the Tri-Valley," said Melissa Tench-Stevens, TV30 Executive Director. "The students developed great questions for their guests with answers that are informative and interesting to any age group," she added.

The hands-on TV Camp provides an introduction to the technical and talent aspects of studio and field production. Tri-Valley Youth View was written and produced by students who range in age from 12-17 years old. Students researched and wrote questions, acted as crew for all the production positions and were talent for the program.

Guests on the current one hour show include Mike Harris, City of Livermore Chief of Police; John Lawrence, Assistant General Manager of LARPD; Art Dao, Executive Director of Alameda County Transit Commission; Terick Albert, Special Projects Officer of Fremont Bank in Pleasanton; Mark Davis, KKIQ Radio Personality; and Mayor Jerry Thorne, City of Pleasanton.

Tri-Valley Youth View may be seen on Comcast on TV30 and TV 28 or via AT&T U-Verse TV channel 99. In addition, the show may be viewed via Video on Demand anytime on the station's website at www.tv30.org.
